Information from
The Registrar’s Office
Your first reliable stop for information on all matters.

In the fall semester, most student services staff will continue to work remotely. The Registrar’s Office, and Performance Office will operate as an integrated unit with a single point of contact at the main reception desk in the Registrar’s Office (Room 145 of the EJB). Students should continue to contact staff by email or phone.

Reception Hours of Operation: Monday to Friday: 8:45 am - 4:30 pm
Staff available remotely: Monday to Friday: 8:45 am - 4:30 pm

Safety Protocols & Building Operation

Safety Protocols

It is important to remember that our campus occupancy protocols are informed not only by UofT policy and recommendations, but also by those of public health authorities (municipal, provincial, and federal)—and, by extension—the degree of COVID-19 community spread that is present. We therefore must acknowledge that building protocols and teaching delivery might have to change during the semester and we should all be prepared for the possibility of needing to make adjustments as the semester unfolds. Here is a summary of protocols for coming to the Faculty of Music buildings (Edward Johnson Building and 90 Wellesley, referred to as EJB and 90W below):

(1) All members of our community must review their health before coming to campus to ensure they are not presenting symptoms of COVID-19. Anyone who is in doubt about illness should remain at home. All faculty, staff, and students coming to campus must use the UCheck self-assessment web portal before coming to campus; the tool is available at ucheck.utoronto.ca and more details can be found at utoronto.ca/utogether/ucheck. The first time that you access UCheck this semester you will be required to upload documents related to your vaccination status; if you have submitted this documentation through the Music-specific portal, you still have to do this on UCheck.

Members of the community should have their smartphone or other device with them on campus so that the UCheck “green screen” can be shown. This will be required for entry into buildings that do not have FOB access as well as to access particular services/offices on campus. Instructors may ask, but are not required to ask, students to show their “green screens” upon entering a class or attending an in-person office hour.

Students must report illness or self-isolation through the Absence Reporting tool in ACORN; like last year, medical documentation will not be required for absences.

Everyone with symptoms of COVID-19 (e.g., fever, cough, difficulty breathing, etc.) should stay home, not work, self-isolate and complete a self-assessment using the UCheck web portal. A number of dedicated assessment centres have been established across the Greater Toronto Region to facilitate assessment and testing. Information on locations is available on local public health websites, including Toronto and Peel Region. If you live in other regions, you can find your local health unit here: http://www.health.gov.on.ca/en/common/system/services/phu/locations.aspx

If you are advised by a public health authority that you have tested positive for COVID-19, please contact ehs.occ@utoronto.ca immediately.

(2) All members of our community are expected to try to maintain 2-metre physical distancing when outside of instructional spaces (e.g., classrooms, studios, labs). Within instructional spaces, distancing is encouraged when possible, but it is only required when activities involving winds, brass, or singing are involved. In winds, brass, and singing, a minimum of 2-metre physical distancing is required. When a group of people are engaged in these activities, the distancing requirement applies between everyone in the group; in the case of an individual performer, the distancing requirement applies between the performer and a group of undistanced listeners/observers.

The use of plexiglass in performance situations is no longer required. However, we will be leaving the plexiglass panels in classrooms and large rehearsal spaces, in case instructors find them useful to ensure physical distancing, especially in the class setups where the plexiglass panel could be used to demarcate the performance zone and enforce the distance between the performer(s) and those observing.
(3) Signage remains in place to facilitate physical distancing in common areas outside of classrooms. Among others, measures include designating certain corridors as one-way, indicating staircases as ascending or descending, and limiting occupancy in elevators.

(4) All members of our community must follow the current U of T Policy on Face Masks. This policy requires that face masks be worn in all indoor University spaces, including classrooms, labs, lobbies, elevators, hallways, washrooms, and shared office spaces. Students will be required to wear masks in practice rooms whenever appropriate for their instrument. Faculty and staff with their own dedicated, enclosed office may remove their masks when alone in that space. For additional information on the U of T mask policy, see also the Joint Provostial and Human Resources Guideline.

Masks may be removed in teaching and learning environments if and when the instructor recommends that masks are not required on the basis that wearing them would materially impair the effectiveness of the learning activity, and where the learning activity can be carried out safely (e.g., playing a wind or brass instrument with a minimum of 2-metre physical distancing in place).

Singing in choirs will be done wearing masks and with physical distancing; solo singing in a class setting will also be done wearing masks, with distancing between the person singing and other members of the class. For the start of the semester (and until further notice), singing during in-person voice lessons will also take place with masks.

(5) Frequent, thorough hand washing is an important step all members of our community can take to reduce the spread of illness. There are several additional hand sanitizer stations in both the EJB and 90W (along with signage about the importance of hand hygiene). Sanitizers and wipes will be provided in both classrooms and practice room hallways. It is also recommended that individuals carry their own sanitizing materials should they not be near a hand washing or sanitizing station when they need to sanitize their hands.

(6) Class/Lesson Scheduling. All classes and lessons scheduled at the EJB and 90W will begin at 10 minutes past the hour. This will ensure that there is a small break for people to enter/exit the room.

(7) Studios and rooms (other than classrooms) where voice/brass/winds instruction will occur have been equipped with portable Honeywell HEPA filter machines. If you a machine does not appear to be working properly, please let the building manager know at facilities.music@utoronto.ca.

Building Operation

(1) Restricted building access. The East entrance of the EJB will be accessed by FOB only. The West (Philosopher’s Walk) side is not equipped with a FOB-reader at this time and is therefore exit-only; a FOB-reader will be installed during the fall semester (estimated early October installation date). As usual, the 90W building is FOB-access only.

(2) Building hours. The hours of operation for both the EJB and 90W will be 7 am to 11 pm Monday–Friday, 9 am to 11 pm Saturday–Sunday.
(3) Reception hours. The hours of operation for Reception at the EJB will be 9:00–4:30, Monday–Friday. Please note that Reception will continue to serve as the main in-person point of contact at the Faculty of Music; if there is no one in-person at another office (such as the Performance Office or Graduate Office), please visit Reception. It will be possible to schedule in-person meetings with Student Services staff this year, but much advising will remain virtual.

(4) Practice Rooms. Students will now be able to book 2 hours of practice time in the online booking system https://lsm.utoronto.ca/rrxpress, but these additional requirements will be in place:

(a) Everyone must sanitize hands before and after practice sessions. Hand sanitizer dispensers and sanitizing wipes will be available in hallways near the practice rooms, and classrooms but students are encouraged to carry hand sanitizer with them as well.

(b) Practice rooms and classrooms are considered to be shared spaces, and students who can wear a mask while practicing are required to do so.

(c) Students who play an instrument with a condensation (aka spit) valve must bring a cloth/receptacle into which it can be emptied. Emptying valves onto the floor is not permitted.

(d) All practice rooms in the EJB are single occupancy. Until September 22, rehearsals with a pianist or other musicians must occur in practice rooms at 90W or in classrooms. Details will be communicated about booking classrooms at the EJB within the next few weeks.

(e) Students who have access to specialized rooms for practicing (percussion, harp, double bass, oboe, bassoon, and tuba) are also required to follow the above protocols as well as any additional ones put in place by those instrumental areas.

Students who can practice at their place of residence are encouraged to do so. Students are reminded not to linger in the common areas/hallways near the practice rooms.
Feeling Unwell Protocols:
All faculty, staff, and students coming to campus must use the UCheck self-assessment web portal before coming to campus; the tool is available at ucheck.utoronto.ca and more details can be found at utoronto.ca/utogether/ucheck. If you feel unwell, you must:

1. Declare your absence on ACORN. In response to the effects of the pandemic, the University introduced the Absence Declaration tool to record any absence from academic work, whether for medical or non-medical reasons. You should complete the Absence Declaration anytime you are absent from academic work, not just when you have missed a specific course deadline.

You will be able to add up to 14 consecutive dates for when you have been absent. You should record each day of your absence as soon as it begins, up until the day before you return to classes or other academic activities. The University uses this information to consider students for academic accommodation and to monitor overall absences. Your instructor(s) will not be automatically alerted when you declare an absence. Therefore, it is your responsibility to let your instructor(s) know that you have used the Absence Declaration so that you can discuss any needed consideration, where appropriate.

2. Stay home. If you are in residence, please stay in your room and contact residence staff.

3. Contact U of T's Occupational Health Nurse by email at ehs.occhealth@utoronto.ca who will conduct an assessment and provide further direction to ensure that you are supported at this time.

If you have tested positive for COVID-19:

1. Stay home. If you are in residence, please stay in your room and contact residence staff.

2. Declare your absence on ACORN. For instructions, see above.

3. Report your result by email to U of T's Occupational Health Nurse at ehs.occhealth@utoronto.ca who will advise you on your next steps. If you are or have been on-campus, this will help us take appropriate measures to inform Caretaking and support their effort to disinfect and clean in compliance with public health guidelines.

The University respects the privacy of individuals who are tested or have tested positive for COVID-19 and will ensure that the information is kept confidential. For more information, please visit U of T's Environmental Health & Safety website.
Fobs
All students are required to have access to a fob, which serves as your access key to the Edward Johnson Building and 90 Wellesley. A fob is also required to access all the practice rooms at the Edward Johnson building. Your fob is programmed specifically under your name, and is not transferable to others for any reason.

New students or returning students (who need to have their fob replaced) can request one at: https://ssp.music.utoronto.ca/secure/facilities/1/validation.html
Students are required to pay a $26 deposit (by credit card) to process the request.

Any questions concerning fobs may be directed to Reception in the Registrar’s Office. Lost fobs must be reported to Reception immediately, at which time you may request a replacement.

When returning your fob at the end of your study, please note the $26 deposit will be refundable under the following circumstances:
• The fob has been returned in good working order, and;
• The fob returned is registered under the student’s name, and;
• The student has met all degree requirements, for which a refund will be available until August 15th of the same year (for both June and November graduates), or;
• The student has formally withdrawn or been suspended from the program, for which the refund will be available for one month following the effective date.

Specialized Room Keys & Fobs
Students requiring specialized practice facilities for their instruments will be able to pick up a key at Reception. The following instruments have specialized studios:
- Bassoon
- Double Bass
- Harp
- Harpsichord
- Oboe
- Organ
- Percussion
- Tuba/Euphonium

Please refer to page 72 for a list of which of these spaces require a key versus a fob. Students will be required to pay a non-refundable $20 fee. Please note that when you receive your key for the year that this key becomes your responsibility and you are agreeing to the following:
• Key privileges may be revoked if policies and procedures are not adhered to;
• Keys are not transferable to others for any reason;
• Music stands are not provided for practice, lessons, or chamber music rehearsals;
• No smoking, food, or drink is allowed in any of the rooms; and
• Rooms, and contents must be maintained in good order, and contents must not be removed or re-arranged.

Lost keys must be reported immediately to Reception and will require a $20 replacement fee.
For more information, please see the section on Practice Facilities.
Locker Sign Out

New students or returning students without a locker: log into https://ssp.music.utoronto.ca/secure/facilities/4/validation.html to request one, and make a credit card payment of $46.00. Once payment is made, a receipt of payment will be forwarded to Duc Goi (the Building Manager) who will then e-mail students the locker # and combo.

For students who are residing in lockers from last year - log into https://ssp.music.utoronto.ca/secure/facilities/4/validation.html to make a credit card payment of $46.00. Once payment is made for a locker, a receipt of payment will be acknowledged for the academic year.

Please note that lockers are not administered through the Registrar’s Office. If there are any issues, please contact the Building Manager, Duc Goi at facilities.music@utoronto.ca
Program Reminders

Assignment Weights & Return Dates:
Faculty of Music-Specific Rules
The University Assessment and Grading Practices Policy requires that instructors return at least one piece of marked term work, worth at least 10% of the final grade, before the last date to drop the course. The deadline for dropping F courses is in early November; for Y courses in February before Reading Week; and for S courses in early March. Please see Important Dates for exact deadlines. The Faculty of Music Undergraduate Education Committee has endorsed the following policy for the Faculty of Music grading practices, which began in 2017-18:

- Instructors must return by the deadline one or more assessments worth a combined total of at least 10% of the final mark for F/S courses and 20% for Y courses. This regulation applies to all courses, including courses that are performance-based.

- The deadline for returning graded assessments will be the last regularly-scheduled class prior to the Drop Date, with one exception: for Y courses, the deadline shall be the last regularly-scheduled class during the first week of classes in January. This earlier deadline for Y courses will give students the option to not only drop the course but to also pick up a course for the second term.
“Virtual” Days

Fall the fall term, on Thursday, December 9th, Monday classes will meet and Thursday classes will not meet to compensate for the Monday Thanksgiving holiday.

Important: Regarding Course Curriculum Changes and Requirements

Students admitted in 2017-18 or after:
- Maximum of 6.0 credits per year
- Follow the program requirements from the Academic Calendar corresponding to the year you were admitted to the Faculty of Music; Current and archived Calendars are available at https://music.calendar.utoronto.ca/
- Credit weight will be the same as what is outlined in your program requirements and in the 2021-22 Timetable

Students admitted prior to 2017-18:
- Maximum of 7.0 credits per year
- Follow the program requirements from the Academic Calendar corresponding to the year you were admitted to the Faculty of Music; archived Calendars are available at https://music.calendar.utoronto.ca/
- Ensemble credits will remain at 1.0 credits
- Other courses will now be weighted as reflected in the 2021-22 Timetable
Certificates Within the Faculty of Music

Students have the option of completing one or more Certificates in Music within specified areas outside of undergraduate music programs and specializations. The following Certificates are offered:

- Health Applications in Music
- Music Technology
- Popular Music Studies and Ethnomusicology
- Popular Music Studies and Ethnomusicology with Ensemble Option
- Piano Pedagogy

Certificates are offered in conjunction with either a Bachelor of Music or Bachelor of Music in Performance degree. To obtain a Certificate, students must complete a sequence of courses in the respective area. This opportunity encourages students to explore the intersection between music and another discipline, and broaden their musical perspectives in the process. Certificates also allow students to focus their interest in one or more specific areas of music beyond their designated program and receive accreditation on their transcript as a result.

As all degree programs require the completion of a prescribed number of Music Electives, courses completed as part of the Music Elective requirement can be counted towards Certificate requirements. In cases where the Certificate requirements exceed the Music Elective requirements, additional courses must be completed to satisfy the Certificate requirements.

Students who may have completed the requirements of a Certificate(s) must notify the Registrar’s Office by submitting the Declaration of Completion of a Certificate form, available on SharePoint. This must be done after the last date to drop courses in the winter term of your final year of study, and before the end of term. Successful completion of a Certificate(s) will result in an annotation on the academic transcript.

Refer to the Academic Calendar for Certificate requirements.
General Reminders

Maintaining Current Information on ACORN
Important correspondence is sent throughout the year to the Mailing Address/University issued e-mail address recorded on ACORN. It is very important that you keep this information up to date. As part of the Official Policy on Correspondence with Student, you are required to have an official University of Toronto issued e-mail on file. Communications from Quercus, the University’s learning management tool will only be sent to the University issued e-mail address.
There are simple things you can do now to make sure that critical university communication reaches you in a timely way:

- Opt in to UTAlert
- Update your emergency contact information on ACORN
- Check your U of T email address frequently for updates
- U of T COVID-19 FAQ for students

TCards
All students must have a T-Card (University of Toronto student/library card) with a photograph for positive identification. A valid card is required to write final examinations, to use the libraries and athletic facilities, and to vote in student elections.

Please refer to http://tcard.utoronto.ca
Quercus
Quercus is the learning management system for most courses. You are able to access course information for your classes (for those instructors who will use this online feature) via Quercus. You are required to have a university issued e-mail on ACORN in order to receive communications from your instructor on Quercus.
Link: https://q.utoronto.ca

SharePoint
Sharepoint is the system for all administrative pages at the Faculty of Music. Students are able to access information from the Registrar’s Office and Performance Office via SharePoint. Students are reminded to bookmark this page in their browser and/or download the free SharePoint app to stay up-to-date with communications from the Registrar’s Office.

The Registrar’s Office: http://utoronto.sharepoint.com/sites/music/registrar
The Performance Office: http://utoronto.sharepoint.com/sites/music/performance

Registration
Your registration is triggered when you make the minimum first payment of fees or make arrangements for a fee deferral (based on scholarship(s) or government assistance). September 1st was the deadline for automatic registration. Students who pay after September 1st and before September 16th, are required to provide their proof of payment to the Registrar’s Office by 4:00pm on September 16th, at the latest.

Students who have not paid or deferred their fees by the 16th of September will be removed from their courses. Re-registration requires approval and a financial penalty, and does not guarantee a spot in previously enrolled courses.

September 1st
Recommended date for minimum payment/tuition deferral for automatic registration

September 16th
Last day to submit proof of payment; Registration Deadline

NOTE: Payment cannot be done in person at any University Office.
Fees
Fees for Registration consist of academic, incidental and ancillary fees. Academic fees vary depending on the program of study and year of admission to the Faculty of Music. All students in the Degree program are charged a program fee for each of the four years of study. Students in the Artist Diploma are charged a program fee for each of the three years of study. A program fee is a set fee for the fall-winter academic session regardless of a student’s course load, provided the load falls within a defined range (4.0-7.0 credits for students admitted prior to 2017-18; 4.0-6.0 credits for students admitted in or after 2017-18).

Students who have completed the required number of years of full-time study are eligible to be enrolled in a part-time course load for any additional years of study. A load less than 4.0 credits for the fall-winter session constitutes a part-time course load. Part-time students pay based on the credit weight of the course(s). Students who intend to have a course load (for the fall-winter session) that will make them eligible for part-time status must notify the Registrar by e-mail before the 10th of September.

As a part-time student, the last date to cancel a course with no academic penalty is not the same as the last date to be eligible for a refund.

Students may either pay their fees:
• On a sessional basis (both Fall and Winter together) by the Fall term payment deadline, or
• By term (separate Fall and Winter term payments)

All payments are applied to the charges on your account according to the algorithm of ‘oldest first’. This means that the oldest outstanding charge in the oldest session will be cleared first; there is no distinction between the type of charge, e.g. residence fees, academic fees etc.
How to Pay

There are three ways to pay your fees. Please note that payment cannot be done in person at any University Office.

Option 1.
You can pay your fees at any one of the chartered banks using a printout of the ACORN account in invoice format.

Option 2.
You can pay using the Telephone or PC Banking service. Call your financial institution’s telephone/pc banking service and provide them with the name “University of Toronto” and your account number located on the top right hand corner of your invoice. Your account number is made up of the first 5 letters of your surname and 10 numbers. Make sure you keep your bank verification/confirmation number. This will be your proof of payment.

Option 3.
You can make a payment on your credit card with a convenience fee on ACORN. Select “Make A Payment” under Finances. Click on “Make a Payment by Credit Card” and follow the instructions. NOTE: A convenience fee of 1.75% will be levied on all payments made by credit card.

Once the payment has been received, your status on your ACORN homepage should be “Registered” for the 2021-22 Fall-Winter session. Note that it will take 3-5 business days for a payment to be posted to your account. If you check your account using the Student Web Service and do not see the payment posted to your account, check again in a few days. There are daily updates from the bank to the University.

Claiming Your RESP Funds

In order to release your RESP funds, your provider will require verification or confirmation of enrolment. In order to obtain verification, you will need to submit the form from your RESP provider to the Registrar’s Office. The form will then subsequently be completed and sent directly to your provider on your behalf. Prior to submitting this form, ensure that you have signed and filled out all necessary fields regarding your account.

Alternatively, you may request a confirmation of enrolment letter from the Registrar’s Office to be sent directly to your RESP provider. When submitting this request, please include the contact information of your RESP provider, including the fax number if possible. If you would like this letter sent elsewhere, there will be an $8 charge payable by cash or personal cheque to the Registrar’s Office.

When submitting your verification request, please note the following:
• Only requests submitted directly by the student requiring access to their RESP funds will be accepted
• Please send verification of enrolment requests to reception.music@utoronto.ca
Deferring Your Fees with OSAP
A deferral is the opportunity to officially postpone the fee payment until your loan documents/funds arrive only if you are expecting to receive OSAP/another provincial government loan and are unable to pay the first installment of fees with your own funds.

By deferring your fees, you are agreeing to the following conditions:
• All outstanding tuition fees have been paid. Your deferral is not valid if you owe tuition fees from a previous session.
• Even if you do not receive any assistance from OSAP, or the funds do not cover your minimum payment required to register, you are still responsible for paying your fees.

If you have been assessed as eligible for OSAP/another provincial government loan, you may defer your fees until the funds become available.

Defer your fees online by heading to your Financial Account page on ACORN and following the directions. After completing the deferral, you should check to ensure your registration is complete (your status will indicate “Registered” on your ACORN homepage).

Alternatively, if you are unable to defer your fees online, the deferral can be completed in the Registrar’s Office. To defer in person, please bring proof of your OSAP Notice of Assessment to the Registrar’s Office no later than 4:00pm, September 16th, or you will be removed from your courses.

OSAP Funds
OSAP funding will be transferred from OSAP to your ACORN account at the University of Toronto to pay your fees. If your OSAP funding is greater than the fees you owe, OSAP will deposit your remaining Fall or Winter term or Summer session OSAP funding into your bank account. OSAP funding transfers normally start at the beginning of September for Fall term, January for Winter term, and May for Summer session.
You will receive 60% of your entitlement in September, and the remaining 40% in January.

Deferring Your Fees with a Scholarship
If you are receiving a scholarship from the Faculty of Music/ the University of Toronto, or an external establishment that is required to go towards your fees, your fee payment may be deferred. The award will be credited towards your tuition fees for the 2021-22 academic year, once you have registered for the session. In order to register, you must notify us by September 1st, 2021 of your intent to defer your fees payment with the scholarship(s).

If the value of the scholarship(s) does not cover the entire minimum tuition fees payment, you will be required to pay the difference prior to requesting a fee deferral using the scholarship. Even if your scholarship covers or exceeds the minimum tuition fees payment, you must notify us by the deadline of your intent to defer your fees payment.
The request to defer your fees should be sent from your University of Toronto email address to the attention of the Registrar (registrar.music@utoronto.ca). The message must include:

- Your full name
- Your student number
- Scholarship details (name & value)
- Payment details (if the scholarship does not cover the full minimum tuition fees payment): amount paid & confirmation number

Please note the following:
- University-issued scholarships are typically applied to student accounts in late September. Students should check ACORN at this time to confirm that all funds have been applied appropriately.
- All requests to defer tuition fees must be made directly by the student. Requests made by a third party will not be accepted.

Dependent Waiver

If payment of your fees is made by Staff/Dependent Waiver, you must pay your non-academic incidental fees at a bank, then submit proof of payment and a copy of the Staff or Dependent Tuition Waiver Request form approved by the Human Resources Department to the Student Accounts Office, 215 Huron St., Toronto, ON, M5S 1A2. For further information, please contact the UofT Human Resources (416) 978-2015.

Once you have either paid or deferred the Minimum Payment to Register (MPR), check ACORN to see that the payment has been received or if your deferral has been processed. In the “Academics” box on your ACORN dashboard, you will see your registration status for the Fall/Winter session:
- Registered = your registration is complete; no further action is necessary
- Invited = you risk being removed from your courses; check your status again in a few days to make sure your payment or deferral request was successfully received.
Course Enrolment

Students Admitted in 2017-18 and onwards

All degree students admitted to the Faculty of Music in 2017-18 and onwards, are permitted to be enrolled in a maximum of 6.0 credits for the academic year. This includes the Major Ensemble and Arts & Science elective(s).

- During the first round of enrolment, students were eligible to enrol in a maximum of 5.0 credits; this excludes Major Ensemble and the Arts & Science elective(s).
- During the second round, students are able to enrol in up to 6.0 credits (excluding Major Ensemble).
- The total credit load must not exceed 5.33 credits by the end of September 19th. Students will be enrolled in Major Ensembles between the 20th to the 22nd of September by the Registrar’s Office.

Students Admitted Prior to 2017-18

All degree students admitted to the Faculty of Music, prior to the 2017-18 academic year are permitted to be enrolled in a maximum of 7.0 credits for the academic year. This includes the Major Ensemble and Arts & Science elective(s).

- During the first round of enrolment, students were eligible to enrol in a maximum of 5.0 credits; this excludes Major Ensemble and the Arts & Science elective(s).
- During the second round of enrolment, students are able to enrol in up to 7.0 credits (excluding Major Ensemble).
- The total load must not exceed 6.0 credits by the end of September 19th (for students who are required to take Major Ensemble). Students will be enrolled in Major Ensembles between the 20th to the 22nd of September by the Registrar’s Office.
Checking Your Timetable
View/print your personalized timetable on ACORN (www.acorn.utoronto.ca)

- If a course you enrolled in during the first round of enrolment is not on your timetable, you have been removed from it. If this is the case, you would have received an e-mail explaining the reason.
- Major Ensemble enrolments will be finalized after the placement auditions in September.
- Make sure that you are enrolled in the correct courses for your program:
  - Are you in the correct Applied Music course?
  - Are you in all the required Basic Music Courses for your year?
  - Are you enrolled in Basic Music Courses that you failed the previous session?

How to Make Course Changes
You may make courses changes on ACORN (adds/cancellations) until the 22nd of September for “F” and “Y” courses, and to the 19th of January for “S” courses. This does not apply to your Basic Music Courses. Students continue to change courses throughout the enrolment period, so the class/section you want may be full at one point, and have spaces open later.

The deadlines are as follows:
To ADD Y, F section code courses Sept 22, 2021
To CANCEL F section code courses Nov 8, 2021
To ADD S section code courses Jan 23, 2022
To CANCEL Y section code courses Feb 21, 2022
To CANCEL S section code courses Mar 14, 2022

Waiting Lists
Waiting lists for F and Y section code Arts & science courses will be turned off at the end of the day on the 17th of September, and on the end of the day on January 13th for S section code courses. If the course(s) you were wait listed for are not listed in the section called Approved on ACORN, you were not enrolled in the course(s) through the waiting list process.

Please note there are no waiting lists for any music courses.

From September 18-22nd (For F and Y section code courses), and January 10th-13th (for S section code courses), enrolment in courses that previously had waiting lists become accessible on a first-come, first serve basis on ACORN.
The University of Toronto offers an abundance of resources to support its students and to ensure that an environment conducive to learning continues to flourish. As with any large community, the University has rules and policies to guide students and to help them make the most of the opportunities that are available to them. The information and links throughout this section outline many of the expectations the University has for its students.

It is your responsibility to understand these policies and to seek more information when you need it.
Key Policies

By being students at the University, students assume certain responsibilities and are guaranteed certain rights and freedoms. All of these are documented in various policies which have been formulated by the University and which serve, ultimately, to benefit all of the members of the community and to preserve the academic integrity of the institution.

Key policies are listed below; others are available through the Governing Council website.

Academic Integrity

What is Academic Integrity?

Academic Integrity in the Faculty of Music endorses the International Center for Academic Integrity's definition of academic integrity as acting in all academic matters with honesty, trust, fairness, respect, responsibility and courage. Academic Integrity applies to every member of the University, and acting with academic integrity helps preserve a community where:

- Competition is fair and honest work is rewarded;
- Students are developing the personal and professional skills needed for success, like time management, effective research/writing, independent thinking and ethical judgement;
- Intellectual property is respected;
- Our degrees continue to receive the respect and recognition they deserve.
- Helping to ensure that the University maintains its reputation for excellence and the highest level of integrity in all areas is the responsibility of everyone in the U of T community.

Cheating and plagiarism are taken very seriously at the University of Toronto. Academic offences are treated as a threat to the integrity of the institution as a whole and the penalties can be quite severe. These offences are outlined in the Code of Behaviour on Academic Matters.

Offences include:

- Using unauthorized aids on an exam or test
- Looking at someone else’s answers during an exam or test
- Falsifying documents or grades
- Making up sources or facts for an essay or any assignment
- Submitting the same work in more than one course (without permission from instructor)
- Submitting another’s work/ideas as your own
To assist in the detection of plagiarism, the University enlists the services of a software provider (Turnitin). Each submitted paper is checked for textual similarity using millions of resources stored in the database. Students must be informed at the start of the course if the instructor will be using Turnitin.com. All students will be asked to submit all papers to the instructor via Turnitin.com, unless there are extenuating circumstances, which will be considered on a case-by-case basis. Not only are cheating and plagiarism prohibited but you can also be penalized for helping someone else commit such an offence. For example, if you write an essay for someone else or let someone copy your answers of an assignment or during a test or exam, you may face the same penalties as the student you assisted.

If you are suspected of having committed an academic offence, your instructor will request to meet with you. Based on the weight of the piece of work in question, you may then be required to meet with the Coordinator and/or the Dean’s Designate of the Faculty. If you admit to the offence, the Coordinator or the Dean’s Designate may impose sanctions. If you do not, you may be required to participate in a hearing of the University Tribunal. Tribunal decisions for academic offences are made by a panel which includes both students and faculty.

Sanctions imposed for academic offences vary according to the severity of the offence as well as other factors but can include resubmission of the piece of work (for minor offences), a mark of zero for the piece of work or the entire course and, in severe cases, suspension or expulsion from the University.

Refer to https://www.academicintegrity.utoronto.ca/smart-strategies for information, tips, and resources to avoid academic offenses.

Grading

You can expect uniformity in grading practices between courses. Your instructors must meet some minimum requirements in setting out the grading scheme for a course and in evaluating your work. These requirements are set out in:

1. The Grading Practices Policy which applies to all programs and sets out the grading rules for the University; and,
2. The Grading Procedures for The Faculty of Music.

All instructors (with the exception of Applied Instructors) are required to provide students with a Course Grading Scheme & Course Outline as early as possible and no later than the last date to enroll in courses.

The Course Outline must include:

- Methods of evaluation (essays, tests, performances, final exam etc.)
- Relative weights
- Timing of each component
- Lateness penalties

Once announced, these may not be changed, unless approved by a majority of the students attending the class at which a vote is taken. Majority is shown by a vote at a regularly scheduled class, which should be announced no later than in the previous class meeting.
Returning Work Before the Drop Deadline

It is a University Regulation that instructors must assign, grade and return at least one piece of work worth at least 10% of the final mark before the last date to drop the course. This regulation applies to courses that are performance based as well. In such cases, at least one performance based assessment should be done and students informed of their grades prior to the drop date.

It is required by the Faculty of Music that instructors return by the deadline one or more assessments worth a combined total of at least 10% of the total course mark for F/S courses, and 20% for Y courses. For Y courses, the work must be returned by the last regularly-scheduled class during the first week of classes in January.

Missed Term Tests

Students who miss a term test/performance assessment will be assigned a mark of zero, unless they missed the test/assessment for reasons entirely beyond their control, and within one week of the missed test, are able to submit to the instructor or the Registrar appropriate documentation to warrant special consideration. Absences due to medical reasons should be documented on a University of Toronto Verification of Illness or Student Injury Form.*

The University is temporarily suspending the need for a doctor’s note or medical certificate for absences from academic participation. Please use the Absence Declaration tool on ACORN to declare an absence if you require consideration for missed academic work. You are responsible for contacting your instructors to request the academic consideration you are seeking. Record each day of your absence as soon as it begins, up until the day before you return to classes or other academic activities.

If the request is accepted by the instructor, the student will be entitled to the following:

• In courses where there is no other term work as part of the evaluation scheme, a makeup test/performance assessment must be given.
• In other courses, the instructor may choose to either to give a makeup test/performance assessment or increase the weighting of other graded work by the amount of the missed component.

A student who misses a term test/performance assessment cannot subsequently petition for late withdrawal from the course without academic penalty on the grounds that they had no term work returned
Declare your absence on ACORN: In response to the effects of the pandemic, the University has temporarily suspended the need for the Verification of Illness Form. Instead, they will continue with the Absence Declaration tool to record any absence from classes, whether for medical or non-medical reasons. You should complete the Absence Declaration anytime you are absent from class, not just when you have missed a specific course deadline.

You will be able to add up to 14 consecutive dates for when you have been absent. You should record each day of your absence as soon as it begins, up until the day before you return to classes or other academic activities. The University uses this information to consider students for academic accommodation and to monitor overall absences. Your instructor(s) will not be automatically alerted when you declare an absence. Therefore, it is your responsibility to let your instructor(s) know that you have used the Absence Declaration so that you can discuss any needed consideration, where appropriate.

Student Conduct

The University of Toronto assumes no general responsibility for the moral and social behaviour of its students. There are cases, however, in which the University’s interest is unique and not adequately recognized by the wider justice system. For such instances, the University has its own set of internal offences and procedures - called the Code of Student Conduct.

The Student’s Companion to the Code on Student Conduct is a resource intended to help students understand and navigate the Policy and address any questions about the Policy and the procedures surrounding it. The purpose of the Code of Student Conduct is to deal fairly and expeditiously with charges that involve the safety or freedom of others while participating in University activities or programs, or living in University housing. The University prohibits assault, sexual assault, threats, intimidation, endangering the health and safety of others, damage to others’ property and criminal harassment (commonly known as “stalking,” defined in detail in the Code).

Offences under this code are dealt through hearing procedures within the Faculty, and sanctions range from a formal reprimand to denial of access to activities or services. In the most serious cases, the sanction can be expulsion from the University. Please note that students living in University residences may be subject to additional policies designed specifically to create a positive residence environment.

Intellectual Property Rights Violation

Lectures and course materials prepared by the instructor are considered by the University to be an instructor’s intellectual property covered by the Canadian Copyright Act. Students wishing to record lectures or other course material in any way are required to have written permission from the instructor to do so. Such permission, if granted, is only for their own study purposes and does not include permission to “publish” them in any way. Students with disabilities are granted permission to record lectures by Accessibility Services, as an appropriate accommodation.

Failure to comply with this policy will initiate formal action and may jeopardize your status as a student in the University.
Freedom of Speech
The right to free speech is integral to the University’s mission as an institution devoted to the pursuit of truth, advancement of learning and dissemination of knowledge. It is only when the freedoms of others are jeopardized that the University places any limits on what can be said. The important exceptions to the right of free speech - such as threats, disruption or harassment - are described below, but in general, students are encouraged to express their opinions and to contribute to the discussions and debates that characterize campus life.

Defined in the University’s Statement on Freedom of Speech, the right to free speech includes the right to examine, question, investigate, speculate and comment on any issue, as well as the right to criticize the University, to form groups and the right of such groups to express themselves.

Disruption
Students have the right to peacefully protest any University activity. However, that right does not extend to the point of disruption of an activity or to an extent where a member of the University’s freedom of speech is jeopardized. For example, picketing outside a classroom may be acceptable. Shouting or otherwise preventing a lecture from taking place is not. Disruption is an offence under the University’s Code of Student Conduct and charges are dealt with through its procedures.

Discrimination
There are several policy documents that confirm the University’s commitment to acting against discrimination. The Statement on Human Rights clearly states that the University:

“acts within its purview to prevent or remedy discrimination or harassment on the basis of race, gender, sexual orientation, age, disability, ancestry, place of origin, colour, ethnic origin, citizenship, creed, marital status, family status, receipt of public assistance or record of offence.”

Though you are, for the most part, free to express your opinions, no matter how controversial, there is a point at which the right to free speech is limited. You are not entitled to target individuals with vexatious comments based on human rights grounds. If you do so, and your conduct is known to be unwelcome, this is defined as “discriminatory harassment” and is an offence under the University’s Code of Student Conduct.

Online Harassment
Electronic communication that is unwanted, and that is persistent, repeated, abusive, obscene or otherwise unwelcome may be harassment and may be actionable under University policy. The Enough Web site (www.enough.utoronto.ca) provides advice on when and how to respond and how to take action against electronic harassment.
Sexual Violence & Harassment

Sexual violence and harassment is defined in the Policy on Sexual Violence & Sexual Harassment. The Sexual Violence and Sexual Harassment Policy covers all members of the University community - staff, students, and faculty. Sexual violence and sexual harassment is unwanted sexual attention or unwanted emphasis on your sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or gender expression. It includes any unwelcome pressure for sexual favours, any comments, gestures or other conduct which places an offensive focus on the sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or gender expression of another person, and any gender-based conduct that is directed at you and that creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive working or learning environment for you.

The University has established the University of Toronto Sexual Violence Prevention and Support Centre [“the Centre”] with a tri-campus presence. The Centre has a mandate to conduct intake, accept Disclosure and Reporting of Sexual Violence, and provide support to individual members of the University community who have experienced sexual violence. The Centre will also provide education and training to members of the University community with respect to responding to disclosures of sexual violence and how to support complainants.

The Student’s Companion to the Policy on Sexual Violence and Sexual Harassment is a great resource in helping understand and navigate the Policy and address any questions about the Policy and the procedures surrounding it. In addition, here are additional resources:

- Online Sexual Violence Education and Prevention Training Mobile
- Student Life Resources: Help for Sexual Assault

The University Ombudsperson

The University Ombudsperson investigates complaints from any member of the University not handled through regular University channels, offers advice and assistance and can recommend changes in academic or administrative procedures where this seems justified. The Ombudsperson has access to all relevant files and information and to all appropriate University officials. All matters are held in strict confidence, unless the individual involved approves otherwise. The Ombudsperson is independent of all administrative structures of the University and is accountable only to the Governing Council. The Ombudsperson is available by appointment at all three U of T campuses.

For an appointment, call (416) 978-4874 or e-mail ombuds.person@utoronto.ca

Accommodations for Religious Observances

It is the policy of the University of Toronto to arrange reasonable accommodation for the needs of students who observe religious holy days other than those already accommodated by ordinary scheduling and statutory holidays. Please note that students have the responsibility to alert members of the teaching staff in a timely fashion to upcoming religious observances and anticipated absences.
Academic Matters & Support

The University provides a wide range of services to students to help them receive the right support to succeed during their years at the University of Toronto and beyond. The following section outlines the services available as well as policies and procedures surrounding academic matters.

Supports

Academic Success Centre
The Academic Success Centre offers workshops and individual support for the development of learning skills including time management, study skills, exam preparation, note-taking, and stress management. They also have a number of online learning resources to help facilitate the development of learning skills at http://www.studentlife.utoronto.ca/asc/learning-strategies. Appointments are recommended for students who wish to achieve academic success in their university studies, and develop life-long learning skills. www.asc.utoronto.ca

Accessibility Services
Accessibility Services provides services and programs for students with a documented disability, be it a physical, sensory, learning disability or mental health disorder. Students with temporary disabilities (i.e. broken arm or leg) also qualify. Services include alternative test and exam arrangements, note-taking services, on-campus transportation, adaptive equipment, assistive devices and skills development. Students who request accommodations for their academic programs and related activities at the University are not required to disclose the diagnosis of their disability; however, it is recommended they do so. It is vitally important that students discuss their needs as early as possible with the Service in order to put accommodations in place. Students must present relevant and up-to-date documentation, as outlined on the website, from an appropriate health care professional.
www.studentlife.utoronto.ca/as
New and/or Returning students (Not registered with Accessibility Services):
Students with a documented disability who maybe eligible for accommodations are required to complete the relevant intake package available at https://www.studentlife.utoronto.ca/as/new-registration
Once your application has been reviewed, you will be notified, if your intake meeting and future sessions will be with a central Accessibility Advisor or an On-Location Advisor.

Returning Students (Registered with Accessibility Services):
Students should continue to connect with the advisor they have been assiged to (on-location or central).

The Faculty of Music will have an On-Location Accessibility Services Counsellor. Details will be sent out shortly. Music students will be eligible to meet virtually with the On-Location Counsellor, Monday to Friday between 9am-5pm. The person will be able to provide counselling on the accommodations required in your classes to be successful in them. In order to be eligible to meet with them, you must be registered with Accessibility Services. If you are already registered with the services, please call the central office at (416) 978-8060 to book your first appointment.

Career Exploration & Education
The Career Centre offers career development guidance through workshops, job shadowing programs and individual appointments, as well as employment, internships and volunteer listings, resume clinics and practice interviews. https://cln.utoronto.ca/home.htm

Mary McAuliffe will be our On-location counsellor who will continue to offer both workshops and one on one counseling during the year. You can schedule a one on one appointment by contacting her at mary.mcauliffe@utoronto.ca

Health and Wellness Centre
The Health and Wellness Centre provides individual counselling/psychotherapy, group therapy and workshops to help students with a broad range of issues such as adjusting to university life, anxiety, depression, relationship problems, sex and gender concerns, building resiliency, and other personal difficulties. Visit http://www.studentlife.utoronto.ca/hwc for details.

Lily Rosenberg will be the On-Location Health and Wellness Counsellor. She will be available to see students by virtual appointments and will offer a number of workshops over the course of the year to address the unique challenges and needs of the students. Please call (416) 978-8030, press 5 to set up your first appointment.

My SSP, is a text and chat helpline service that offers free and confidential counselling on a 24-7 basis. Short for My Student Support Program, My SSP provides access to trained counsellors who can help students with issues ranging from academic stress and relationship problems to depression, loneliness and struggles navigating cultural and language barriers. On-demand support can be accessed over the phone in different languages (35 for immediate support in simplified Arabic, Chinese, English, French, Korean and Spanish, 146 for ongoing support), a BIPOC counsellor, or a counsellor who understands and can relate to racism and mental health.

Other 24-7 supports available to students include:

- Good 2 Talk Student Helpline 1-866-925-5454. Professional counselling, information and referrals for mental health, addictions and well-being.
- Gerstein Crisis Centre 416-929-5200
- Distress Centres of Greater Toronto 416-408-HELP (4357)
- The Centre for Addiction and Mental Health at 250 College Street

Safe Space at the Faculty of Music

Writing Assistance

Faculty of Music students have access to the Victoria College Writing Centers for assistance with written work. Writing Centers provide free individual instruction in different kinds of writing done at the University of Toronto. Students can work individually with a trained instructor to develop their ability to plan, organize, write, and revise academic papers in any subject. Alternatively, students in residence should also be able to use the writing lab of the college. All students are encouraged to use these services.

Guidelines for Grade Review

Re-marking Pieces of Term Work

An individual item of term work:
A student who believes that an individual item of term work has been unfairly marked may ask the instructor who marked the work for re-evaluation, within one month from the date of return of the item. In cases where the work was graded by a teaching assistant, the re-evaluation must be requested with the instructor. This process applies to any Music coursework completed during the term, including the following: mid-term tests, quizzes, presentations and assignments. The request to be re-evaluated must explicitly state the part(s) of the evaluation where they think additional marks are warranted and provide a rationale to support the request. The student must do more than simply assert that, “I disagree with the marking”, or that “I believe I deserve more marks”. The instructor’s re-evaluation may involve the entire piece of work and can result in a raised mark, a lowered mark or no change.

Broader complaints about all the work and the instructor of the course:
Any concerns beyond the instructor of the course for an individual item of term work, or for one that concerns the pedagogical relationship of the instructor and the student, are made by the student to the Committee on Academic Standing within 30 days of the final mark being released.

In cases of requesting a re-evaluation of an assessment, students will be asked to state explicitly the part(s) of the evaluation where they have evidence that additional marks are warranted and to provide a rationale for the request. In addition, the petition must include a summary of all previous communications with the marker and/or instructor. The Committee on Academic Standing will solicit an independent reader for the re-evaluation. In this case, the independent reader will be given a clean, anonymous copy of the work and will not know the mark previously assigned. The independent reader’s evaluation will be carried out in accordance with the marker/instructor’s original grading scheme and take into account the nature and level of the course. The independent reader’s evaluation will involve the entire piece of work and can result in a raised mark, a lowered mark or no change. The Committee on Academic Standing then has discretion in determining how this additional evaluation will be used in determining the final mark for the assessment in question.

A parallel process is followed for petitions related to the mark in Recitals. The independent adjudicator’s evaluation can result in a raised mark, a lowered mark or no change. The Committee on Academic Standing then has discretion in determining how this additional evaluation will be used in determining the final mark for recital.

Missed Term Tests
Students who miss a term test/performance assessment will be assigned a mark of zero, unless they missed the test/assessment for reasons entirely beyond their control, and within one week of the missed test, are able to submit to the instructor or the Registrar appropriate documentation to warrant special consideration. Absences due to medical reasons should be documented on a University of Toronto Verification of Illness or Student Injury Form.

If the request is accepted by the instructor, the student will be entitled to the following:
• In courses where there is no other term work as part of the evaluation scheme, a makeup test/performance assessment must be given.
• In other courses, the instructor may choose to either to give a makeup test/performance assessment or increase the weighting of other graded work by the amount of the missed component.

A student who misses a term test/performance assessment cannot subsequently petition for late withdrawal from the course without academic penalty on the grounds that they had no term work returned before the drop date.
Final Examinations

Students are able to view their final Music exams by request, in the Registrar's Office, once the grades have been released.

Request a Reread

If a student believes that there is evidence to support the awarding of additional marks to their final examination, they may request a re-read. The student must first complete the Request for Reread of Final Examination form (available on the Registrar’s Office SharePoint). On this form, the student is asked to demonstrate that their answers substantially warrant additional marks by citing specific instances of disagreement; these may be supported, by such documentary evidence as course handouts, course readings/textbooks, lecture notes. The student must do more than simply assert that, “I disagree with the marking”, or that “I believe I deserve more marks”.

The Request for Re-read of Final Examination form must be submitted to the Registrar’s Office within six months of the posting of the final grade on the student web service. A re-read may result in a grade being lowered, raised or not changed. In submitting this request, the student acknowledges that no further requests to re-evaluate this work will be considered by the instructor.

As the final step in the grade review process, if the student is not satisfied with the re-read by the course instructor, they may petition to the Committee on Committee Standing. The student must explicitly state the part(s) of the evaluation where they have evidence that additional marks are warranted and provide a rationale for the request. In addition, the mark appeal must include a summary of all previous communications with the marker and/or instructor. The Committee on Academic Standing will solicit an independent reader for this purpose. The independent reader will be given an anonymous copy of the work and will not know the mark that was assigned originally. The re-evaluation will be carried out in accordance with the marker/ instructor’s original grading scheme and take into account the nature and level of the course. The re-evaluation will involve the entire piece of work and can result in a raised mark, a lowered mark or no change. The Committee on Academic Standing then has discretion in determining how this additional evaluation will be used in determining the final mark for the assessment in question.

Petitions

Students who wish to request an exception to the normal requirements or procedures relating to degree requirements, academic regulations, exams, and administrative rules, should consult with the Registrar to determine the feasibility of the request and for advice on completing the Petition Form (available within the Registrar’s Office SharePoint). While student negligence is not grounds for a petition, the Faculty will entertain a petition from a student with genuine difficulties in complying with a particular regulation. A reasonable case for a petition involves events beyond the student’s control that are an obstacle to the successful completion of their academic responsibilities. Most of these situations concern illness, personal problems, accidents, or family difficulties. Personal convenience (e.g. travel plans) and work commitments are not normally acceptable reasons for a petition.
Official documentation of pertinent evidence must be submitted in support of the petition. If medical reasons are being cited for the petition, the University of Toronto’s Verification of Illness or Student Injury Form must be completed by a Physician, Surgeon, Nurse Practitioner, Registered Psychologist, Social Worker or Dentist.

NOTE: Doctor’s notes with “student was not able to attend” or similar messages on prescription pads will not be accepted. It is also very important that the medical certificate indicates that the doctor diagnosed and treated you when you were ill; it cannot just report what you told the doctor.

Transfer or Withdrawal from the Faculty of Music

Transferring into the Bachelor of Music in Performance Degree Program (Classical) from the Bachelor of Music (Classical)

Transfers from the Bachelor of Music to the Bachelor of Music in Performance (Classical only) should be made at the end of first year. Transfers at the end of the second year even though possible, are normally not recommended. Transfers into the Performance program beyond the end of second year are not possible. Placement year in the Performance program is based on the decision of the adjudication panel of the audition/jury. Note that it is possible to be placed a year behind and not laterally, based on the performance level demonstrated. In these cases, the duration of the program will be increased.
To apply:
Submit a letter of intent to audition for the Performance program (Classical) by March 15th to the Performance Office. A letter of recommendation from the applied teacher must also be submitted to the Performance Office. There are no exceptions to the deadline.

Please e-mail your letter to: performance.music@utoronto.ca

The process:
The student is required to prepare 40 minutes of repertoire at the Performance level corresponding to their year of study. The student will be scheduled for a 20 minute jury/audition during the Spring exam period and be adjudicated at the Performance level corresponding to the year of study being completed.

NOTE: students wishing to transfer into the Piano Performance program must prepare and perform a fast tempo etude.

The results are conveyed to the student in writing by the Performance Office in early May. The student must send an e-mail to the Registrar’s Office by the 30th of June, confirming their acceptance/placement in the Performance program, in order to complete the transfer.

Students who have been placed a year behind, based on their audition, are not able to challenge this decision nor request exemption from a year of study, at a later date.

Transferring into the Bachelor of Music in Performance Degree Program (Jazz) from the Bachelor of Music (Jazz)
Transfers from the Bachelor of Music, Jazz Education/Comprehensive to the Bachelor of Music, Jazz Performance should be made at the end of first year. Transfers at the end of the second year even though possible, are normally not recommended. Transfers into the Jazz Performance program beyond the end of second year are not possible. The placement year in Jazz Performance is based on the adjudication panel’s assessment of the audition/jury. Note that it is possible to be placed a year behind and not laterally, based on the performance level demonstrated. In these cases, the duration of the program will be increased.

To apply:
Submit a letter of intent to audition for Jazz Performance by March 15th to the Performance Office. A letter of recommendation from the applied teacher must also be submitted to the Performance Office. There are no exceptions to the deadline.

Please e-mail your letter to: performance.music@utoronto.ca

The process:
A first year student is required to prepare 20 tunes and a second year 40 tunes. The student will be scheduled for a 20 minute jury/audition during the Spring exam period and be adjudicated at the Jazz Performance level corresponding to the year of study being completed.
The results are conveyed to the student in writing by the Performance Office in early May. The student must send an e-mail to the Registrar’s Office by the 30th of June, confirming their acceptance/placement in the Jazz Performance program, in order to complete the transfer.

Students who have been placed a year behind, based on their audition, are not able to challenge this decision nor request exemption from a year of study, at a later date.

Transferring from Classical to Jazz, or Jazz to Classical
Students wishing to transfer into the Jazz Performance program from the Bachelor of Music/Bachelor of Music in Performance (Classical) or vice versa, are required to apply through the Admissions Officer of the Faculty of Music, by submitting a Music Questionnaire available at: https://music.utoronto.ca/applying-auditions.php

Deadline: January 13, 2022

Withdrawing from the Faculty of Music
You are required to complete a Withdrawal Form, with the required signatures, in order to withdraw from the Faculty without academic penalty. The deadline for withdrawal is March 14, 2022.

Please consult with the Registrar’s Office, room 145 EJB, prior to completing a Withdrawal form.

Applied Music

All undergraduate students in the first two years of study are required to take Applied Lessons. Applied Lessons becomes optional for students in year 3 & 4 in Comprehensive, Composition, and History, Culture & Theory, but remain a requirement for Performance and Music Education students in their upper years.

Students registered in the Bachelor of Music in Performance (excluding those in the Jazz Program) who do not achieve a final mark of at least 70% in PMU285Y1 Applied Lessons, will be required to transfer into the Comprehensive stream within the Bachelor of Music.
Code of Conduct for Applied Music Instruction

Individual instruction in the student’s major performance medium is an integral part of the core curriculum at the Faculty of Music. Outlined below are the requirements, obligations and expectations to be respected by both the teacher and the student to ensure learning outcomes are successfully accomplished. Direct your inquiries to Eddy Aitken (Performance Administrator) at edna.aitken@utoronto.ca or (416) 978-3733.

- Each academic year, students and teachers are required to complete 24 one-hour lessons (18 for students in the Opera Diploma Program); lessons should be divided equally between the terms.
- The student is provided with a Teacher Assignment Form in August before the start of the academic year, to initiate contact with the teacher. This form must be signed by the teacher and submitted to the Performance Office by the date indicated on the form.
- Agreement on a schedule of lessons must be established with all the flexibility required on the part of both the teacher and the student to ensure the completion of twelve (nine for the Opera Diploma Program) lessons each term. Ideally, lessons should be scheduled on a weekly basis. If the sessional instructor and student cannot resolve scheduling conflicts, the Associate Dean of Performance will reassign the student to another instructor.
- Students who are unable to attend a scheduled lesson and do not inform the teacher at least 24 hours in advance of the missed lesson, are required to provide appropriate documentation to the teacher to explain their absence, in order for a makeup lesson to be scheduled. Absences due to illness or injury must be verified on a University of Toronto Medical Certificate.
- If a teacher is unable to reschedule a lesson within the term, then he or she must arrange for a suitable substitute in consultation with the Associate Dean of Performance. The substitute must be a current Faculty member, and the teacher will be responsible for paying the substitute at a rate not higher than the teacher’s own hourly rate of pay.
- If the student arrives 15 minutes after the scheduled time, or later, and no contact has been made with the teacher, the student will forfeit the lesson. A forfeited lesson will result in a 10% penalty applied to the term mark by the Performance Office.
- If the teacher arrives 15 minutes after the scheduled time, or later, and no contact has been made with the student, the student must contact the Performance Office to ensure a makeup lesson is scheduled.
- Templates for Interim and final reports are sent to teachers at the end of the first term and second term respectively. Evaluations are expected to be based on the progress of study over 12 (9 for the Opera Diploma Program) lessons each term. The Performance division has created a rubric that provides a description of the University grade scale from a performance perspective. The Guidelines for Applied Term Work Evaluation, found in the Faculty of Music Academic Calendar, should be used in the evaluation process.
- The Performance Office is available for clarification and discussion of issues of any kind which may arise concerning applied lessons.
Teacher Assignments

Teacher Requests
All applied music teacher assignments are at the discretion of the Associate Dean of Performance. Incoming students may have requested a particular applied music teacher on their acceptance form.

If the requested teacher has not been assigned, it may be due to one of the following reasons:
   a) The teacher has a full teaching load.
   b) The teacher requested does not teach students within their program.

Contacting Your Teacher
The Teacher Assignment e-mail will have the name and contact information of your applied teacher. It is the student’s responsibility to contact the teacher to set up lessons times.

Teacher Assignments and Changes
Students in 2nd, 3rd, or 4th year will be assigned to the same teacher unless a request for a change has been made by the teacher or student.

Applied music teacher changes occur rarely. If a change is necessary, students must complete a Applied Instructor Change Request in consultation with the Area Chair. Please drop by or contact the Performance Office, room 107, performance.music@utoronto.ca with your questions/concerns.

Teacher change requests require the Applied Instructor Change Request to be signed by the current teacher and the new teacher as well as the Area Chair and Associate Dean, Performance to assure a respectful dialogue has taken place regarding the switching of studios. If at any time in this process the student would like the Performance Office’s assistance, they should contact performance.music@utoronto.ca

Grading
The Faculty has in place a standardized system to calculate the final applied grade. All students will receive an Interim Report from their Applied Music instructor in December that
Classical Applied Music Evaluation Procedures

All classical undergraduate students in their first two years will complete a jury on their major instrument scheduled during the April exam period. Students in Music Education, Comprehensive, Composition, and History & Theory will complete a jury in years 3 and 4 if enrolled in Applied Lessons. Students in Performance will complete a recital in years 3 and 4.

Jazz Jury

Applied Jazz teachers, in consultation with their students and coordinated with their improvisation courses, create repertoire lists of 20 tunes per year of study for Jazz Performance and 10 tunes per year for Jazz Comprehensive/Music Education. Each student will create their personal “fakebook” of lead sheets. This fakebook will constitute the repertoire on which the student will be tested on their jury examination and is a cumulative list, i.e., 20 (10) tunes in first year, 40 (20) tunes in second year and so on. The student’s yearly list should contain a maximum of one blues and one rhythm changes tune. A numbered table of contents must be provided and signed by the applied teacher.

Students are responsible for arranging to have their own accompaniment. Copies of their fakebook must be available to accompanists for the jury. Wind instruments and vocalists must use a trio (comping, bass, and drums). Rhythm section players may perform in a trio or quartet format.

Each year a minimum of 3 tunes will be selected for examination from the student’s fakebook. Examination programs must include at least three contrasting styles/tempos (e.g. swing, bebop, ballad, even 8ths, blues, etc.).

Students should be thoroughly familiar with melody, form and chord progression of each tune in their fake book. Insufficient preparation of material required will adversely affect jury evaluations. All material must be memorized. A 10% penalty will be assessed for each tune selected by the jury panel that cannot be performed by the student.

NOTE: Drummers will be expected to be able to describe the form of all repertoire (e.g. AABA, binary, through-composed) and be familiar enough with harmony to describe key modulations/key areas. They should also be thoroughly familiar with the melodies of all tunes to the point where they can perform a melody-based improvised solo.
Guidelines for Applied Music Evaluation

The Performance division has created a rubric that provides a grade description of the university grade scale from a performance perspective. Two sets of guidelines have been created:

a) Guidelines for Term Work Evaluation in Applied Music
b) Guidelines for Jury/Recital evaluations

These guidelines will be used in the respective assessments.

Please see the rubrics on the following pages.

Accompanists

Students are responsible for supplying their own accompanists for final exams and recitals.

A list of accompanists is available in the Performance Office. Accompanists also advertise on the bulletin board between rooms 107 & 108.
Recitals

Both 3rd and 4th year Recitals are adjudicated, and included in the Applied Music course (PMU385Y1, PMU485Y1, JMU385Y1, or JMU485Y1 as appropriate). 60% of the grade for Applied Music will be given by the Applied teacher for term work, and 40% by the adjudicators of the Recital. Please refer to https://utoronto.sharepoint.com/sites/music/performance/SitePages/Documents-&-Forms.aspx for all details.

Recitals are adjudicated Performance exams. The University has policies governing the completion of such requirements. Students unable to perform their Recital for medical or other extenuating documented circumstances are required to:

- Inform the Performance Office and their Applied Instructor immediately.
- Undergraduate Students must file a petition to the Committee on Academic Standing, through the Registrar, requesting a deferral.
Scheduling
Recitals take place in February, March, and April for undergraduates. Scheduling is published by the Performance Office in October.

Third year recitals take place at Father Madden Hall. Fourth year recitals take place in Walter Hall. Jazz recitals are held in the Upper Jazz Studio at 90W. Organ students are responsible for arranging their own church recitals during the same period.

Students will have one week after the schedule is published to request a change to their date using the form provided by the Performance Office. Submitting a form does not guarantee that recital dates will be changed - reasons given must be deemed valid by the Associate Dean of Performance. Once a recital is booked, it is firm and considered equivalent to a final exam date. Please note it is not mandatory for your Applied Instructor to attend the recital.

Recordings
All required recitals are recorded. Walter Hall and off-site recital recordings may take up to a week to be emailed to you. Jazz students must liaise with the Sound Technician to get a copy of the recording. If you do not receive a recording, contact the Performance Office.

Receptions
Receptions during recital intermissions are not allowed. Post-recital receptions are only permitted on the third floor of the Edward Johnson Building (no alcohol permitted) or at an off-site facility (eg. Restaurant, pub, etc.). There are no exceptions to this policy.

Dress Rehearsals
For Classical students, starting in January, one hour dress rehearsals can be booked through an online booking system, on a first-come first-served basis.
Major Ensembles

All undergraduate students participate in a Major Ensemble in their first two years of study. Similar to Applied Music, only students in Performance or Music Education are required to take a Major Ensemble beyond Year 2.
Note that UTSO, WE & WS students must reserve 9 hours/week; rehearsals limited to 6 hours/week. CME students must reserve 6 hours/week; rehearsals limited to 4 hours/week. Choir students must reserve 6 hours/week; rehearsals limited to 4 hours/week.

Placement Auditions
Major Ensemble placement auditions will be done by audio/video recordings this year. Students wishing to take a Major Ensemble, but are not required to by their program (3rd and 4th year Comprehensive, History, Culture & Theory, Composition) will need to send an email to Amanda Eyer Haberman at performance.music@utoronto.ca. For your audition requirements go to the appropriate link at:

Assignment to a Major Ensemble
Ensemble placements will be posted on the Performance Office SharePoint site. Please take note of any specific information for the ensemble you have been assigned.

Ensemble Grading Procedures
Each ensemble director will present a course outline/syllabus with guidelines for marking, based on the following:

- Attendance & Punctuality: 40%
- Musicianship & Preparation: 40%
- Participation: 20%
Attendance & Punctuality
Attendance is mandatory for all scheduled rehearsals and concerts. Absences for medical reasons and outside engagements must be reported in advance to the Ensemble Conductor. Appropriate documentation must be submitted to support the absences. Absences on medical grounds must be documented with a University of Toronto Medical Certificate. You will still be responsible for making sure your music arrives at the rehearsal/sectional. Please check with the individual Ensemble Conductor regarding their policy on substitute players. Unexcused absences may result in loss of credit or loss of assigned part.

Inability to perform due to physical problems does not excuse anyone from attending rehearsals. Students must be present to observe the rehearsal even if unable to play or sing.

A professional standard of punctuality is expected; ensemble members are to be seated (and tuned if applicable), ready to begin at the scheduled start time.

Musicianship & Preparation
It is understood that performers are to come prepared to every rehearsal, including the first one. It is at the discretion of the Conductor to evaluate that this is so. The Ensemble Conductor will evaluate musicianship and preparation on an ongoing basis.

Participation
Evaluation of the quality of student’s contribution will be at the discretion of the Ensemble Conductor. Performing ensembles are not, and should not be, considered in the same light as other university classes. Since the Faculty of Music is a professional school of music, it is appropriate that all ensemble groups be treated like professional organizations. A casual approach to attendance is unacceptable and the necessity of teamwork, mutual dependency within the ensemble, and a strong sense of responsibility to one’s colleagues as well as the ensemble as a whole, is essential.

Music
Music for all major ensembles will be available before the first rehearsal of each ensemble from Karen Wiseman in the Performance Collection in the basement of the Library (Room E016). Please make note of her hours posted on her door, as she is usually available only in the afternoons.

Music must be returned immediately following the ensemble’s concert. Ensemble manager/librarians should outline procedures for returning music.
Responsibility for Music
Students are responsible for all music signed out and will be charged the full replacement cost for any lost parts (whether U of T owned or rental). In the case of late returns of rental music, students will be charged a monthly fee until parts are returned.

If, at the end of the year, parts are still outstanding, final marks will be withheld until that account has been settled.

Concert Attire
All students should consult their Ensemble Conductor. All attire should be professional.

Performance Notice Boards
Until the Faculty of Music is back to regular in-person activities, please check the Performance Office SharePoint site regularly for all important announcements, information and more. There are notice boards located outside Room 107 on the east and west walls. It is the responsibility of each student to read these boards twice a day. This is often the only way we have of communicating information and changes on a daily basis.

The board on the west wall is used to post schedules and rehearsal times and locations for large ensembles (orchestras, choirs, etc.), orchestral studies, etc. The boards on the east walls are used to post chamber master class information, recital/jury schedules and information, and messages to individual students. A bulletin board relating to the jazz program is also located on the east wall.

It is important to check the notice boards at the beginning of the day and again before afternoon rehearsals in case of changes to rehearsal times or locations. If a message is overlooked and a rehearsal is missed it can result in loss of credit.

It is the student’s responsibility to check the notice boards and know the schedules and repertoire required for each rehearsal. Do not telephone the Performance Office for this information.

To access ensemble, recital and jury information, forms, announcements and more, please visit the Performance Office SharePoint: https://sharepoint.com/sites/music/performance/

Chamber Music

Students who are required to take Chamber Music (PMU 191Y+) should contact the appropriate coordinator to receive instructions on the formation of chamber groups and rehearsal times. Specific requests for chamber groups may be brought to the relevant Chamber Music Coordinator for consideration; however, it should be noted that formation of groups and assignment of coaches is at the discretion of the Chamber Music Coordinators and the Performance Division:

- Brass: Anita McAlister
- Woodwinds: Eric Hall
- Percussion: Aiyun Huang
- Strings: Annalee Patipatanakoon
- Saxophone: Wallace Halladay
- Hybrid: Andrew Downing

A list of chamber music groups will be posted on the Performance Board when assignments are finalized. Priority will be given to those students who have an academic requirement for Chamber Music as part of their program.
Requirements Applicable to all Brass, Woodwinds, Strings & Other Miscellaneous Groups

In general, students enrolled in Chamber Music are required to:
• Rehearse a minimum of two hours per week (one hour with and one hour without their coach)
• Give at least one public performance per term
• Attend masterclasses
• Submit reports to the Chamber Music Coordinator

Note that this is the minimum requirement. Please consult with the Coordinator of your instrument in order to be advised of specific grade assessment guidelines.

Chamber Music Assessment is Based on the Following
1. Regular attendance at rehearsals and coachings - one hour of rehearsal per week (24 weeks) and one hour of coaching per week. Missed rehearsals or coachings will result in loss of credit if not documented by medical certificate.
2. The level of preparation of material by the individual performers.
3. The development of communication and performance skills by the individual within the group.
5. Participation (as both performers and observers) in master classes.
Other Information

Performance Engagements Outside the FoM
All students are reminded of the regulations regarding performing engagements not connected with the Faculty of Music as stated in the Faculty of Music Calendar. This policy will be strictly enforced.

Masterclasses
Masterclasses are given throughout the year by a variety of internationally known musicians. Please check the Performance Notice Boards regularly for details.

Recording
Any student performance at the Faculty of Music may be recorded (video and audio) for the purpose of archival and/or promotional use. Should a featured student (soloist, composer, or conductor) wish to arrange for their own video recording of the performance at their own expense, a written request must be submitted to the Performance Office no later than one week before the performance for Divisional approval.
Student Resources & Facilities
Practice Facilities

Practice facilities are for the use of currently registered Faculty of Music students only. Facilities include classrooms, and two levels of practice rooms at the Edward Johnson Building, and practice rooms on the 3rd and 4th floor at 90 Wellesley.
Policies - Refer to additional protocols on page 9

- The maximum amount of reserved practice time in classrooms/practice rooms is 2 hours/day, between both buildings.

- All spaces are reserved on the hour and have a 10 minute holding period; after 10 minutes, the room becomes available on a first-come-first-served basis until the next booked hour.

- Access to the practice rooms at the Edward Johnson Building and 90 Wellesley St is administered through a fob system.

- The fob is a programmed key, issued by the University of Toronto Campus Police, and tied to the user. Students use the same fob for the duration of their study at the Faculty of Music. Keys and fobs are not transferable for any reason.

- A $26 deposit is required from all new students to pick up their fob; the deposit is refunded upon graduation or withdrawal from the program. Access will continue until August of the year of graduation.

- A $26 non-refundable fee is charged to replace a lost fob, and may take a minimum of 1-2 weeks to arrive.

- Music stands are not provided for practice. No food or drink is allowed in any of the rooms. Rooms and contents must be maintained in good order, and contents must not be removed or re-arranged.

- The EJB & 90 Wellesley are accessible by having an authorized fob. In order to not compromise safety and security, students must not let individuals without fobs enter the facility.

- Students should be aware that the Edward Johnson Building is considered an open access building on the university campus. Members of the public move through the building on a daily basis. Although every effort is made to provide a safe and secure environment at the Faculty of Music buildings, students should not allow instruments or possessions to be left unattended at any time.

- The purpose of having the fob system is for security reasons; students should not leave the doors propped open as it invites unauthorized people to be loitering in the practice areas, compromising safety and security.

Holiday Hours
The Edward Johnson Building & 90W are closed during both statutory and the December holidays.
Practice Facilities at the Edward Johnson Building
The hours of the building during are Monday to Friday 7:00am - 11:00pm; Saturday and Sunday 9:00am - 11:00pm. All rooms must be vacated by 11pm. All reserved spaces have a 10 minute holding period; after this period the room is available until the next booked session.

Classrooms
Details will be finalized shortly.

Practice Rooms (upper and lower basement)
The following rooms are available for practicing and are accessed by using the fob. An online Reservation system is used to sign out practice rooms. Please log in at https://lsm.utoronto.ca/rrxpress with your UTORid and password. All practice rooms have upright pianos:

Room numbers for Lower Level:
0055, 0059, 0060, 0062, 0064, 0066, 0068, 0069, 0070, 0072

Room numbers for Upper Level:

• Students will be eligible to sign up for practice time beginning at 12:01am for the day of, and the following day. Booking can be made until the beginning of the hour, and throughout the day; a confirmation e-mail will be sent to your UTmail account.

• All bookings are in increments of one hour. Students can sign up for a maximum of two one-hour bookings per day between both locations (Edward Johnson Building and 90 Wellesley).

• Students are able to add, delete, and make additional bookings, as long as it is within the permitted time allotment.

Studios

Prof. Parker (253), Prof. Wong (252), Prof. Rolston (227), Prof. Patipatanakoon (334)

A limited number of Faculty members make their studios available for student practicing. In order to practice in your instructor’s studio, your instructor must inform the Registrar’s Office that you have been authorized to have access.

Studio access is granted on your fob, with an additional $20 charge. The rooms will be accessed by fob from September until approximately mid-August of 2022.

The same guidelines apply to studio fob access as specialized studio/facility keys:
- Fob privileges may be revoked at any time if policies and procedures are not adhered to
- Fobs are not transferable to others for any reason
- Music stands are not provided for practice, lessons or chamber music rehearsals
- No smoking, food, or drink is allowed in any of the rooms
- Rooms, and contents, must be maintained in good order, and contents must not be removed or re-arranged

Special Facilities - Instrumental Rooms

Practice facilities for the following instruments require a fob and/or key. The special facilities accessed with a key will require a non-refundable deposit of $20 for the key; keys will be made available during the first week of September.

The rooms will be accessible until the middle of August 2021. It is in the student’s best interest to pay fees at the beginning of the year (preferably before October), as fees cannot be prorated. The use of these rooms is negotiated among the users. All reserved spaces have a 10 minute holding period; after this period the room is available until the next booked session.

The fees charged for studios and special facilities cover the use of facilities from September 6th to mid-August 2021. There will be no access to keyed rooms while doors are being re-keyed in late August.

Practice Facilities at 90 Wellesley
The hours of the building during the week are Monday to Friday 7:00am - 11:00pm; Saturday and Sunday 9:00am - 11:00pm. All rooms must be vacated by 11pm. All reserved spaces have a 10 minute holding period; after this period the room is available until the next booked session.

The following rooms on the 4th floor are available for practicing; the building access is through the fob. The practice room may have a grand or an upright piano, or have none. For the fall term, students are able to book rooms 90W-LJS, 151, 280, and 380, on the weekdays after 6pm and during the entire day on the weekends. Note that room 380 is restricted to drummers, pianists and bassists. Rooms for the winter term are to be finalized.

There is no access for practicing in 90W-UJS.
Guide to Student Services

Student Services at the University of Toronto assists student learning while promoting the academic mission of the University. Services provided are appropriate to and developed in partnership with the diverse student communities. The services and programs aim to build the confidence and skills necessary for students to succeed in their personal, academic and professional lives.
Academic and Personal Counselling
Students may seek advice and help from many sources within the Faculty and the University. The Registrar’s Office at the Faculty is your “reliable first stop” for information and advice. In the Faculty of Music, the Registrar is available to speak with students on any matter of concern; academic, emotional, financial, domestic or personal problems. Referrals are made, where necessary to appropriate services within the University.

Students having difficulties with any course should not hesitate to bring this to the attention of the instructor and/or teaching assistant. The Divisional Coordinators are available to provide additional assistance with academic problems.

Faculty of Music Counsellors on Location
The Faculty of Music will continue to have a Health & Wellness, Accessibility and Career Education Counsellor. All counselling sessions and workshops will be delivered remotely for the fall term.

Academic Success
Located on the main floor of the Koffler Student Services Centre, Academic Success is home to a variety of specialized services designed to help students succeed in their studies at the University of Toronto. Lectures, workshops and individual consultations with a learning strategist are offered (by appointment). Workshops focus on effective learning & study habits, time management, skills to improve concentration and memory, and how to manage anxiety.

Accessibility Services
The University will make every attempt to provide reasonable and appropriate accommodations to persons who have documented disabilities. Faculty and staff carry a responsibility for creating and maintaining an inclusive environment in their teaching and work settings and responding appropriately to requests for accommodation of a disability. Accessibility Services provides support and advice for faculty and staff regarding appropriate accommodations, information about disabilities, and community resources.

University Commitment
The University, in its statement of institutional purpose states:
“The University of Toronto is dedicated to fostering an academic community in which the leaning and scholarship of every member may flourish with vigilant protection for individual human rights, and a resolute commitment to the principles of equal opportunity.”

Responsibilities of Students who have Disabilities
Students who request accommodations for their academic programs and related activities at the University are obligated to disclose their disabilities to Accessibility Services, and request accommodations in a timely manner to facilitate the implementation of support and services. It is vitally important that students discuss their needs as early as possible with the Service in order to put accommodations in place. Students with a documented disability who may be eligible for accommodations are required to complete the relevant intake package available at: https://www.studentlife.utoronto.ca/as/new-registration to facilitate the process. Students who are unsure if they have a disability are also encouraged to reach out/register, and may also complete the intake package to the best of their ability. Students can connect directly with Accessibility Services.

Support Services for Students
Accessibility Services provides services and programs for students with a documented disability, be it physical, sensory, a learning disability, or a mental health disorder. Students with a temporary disability (i.e. broken arm or leg) also qualify. The service provides a wide range of support, including: accommodation advice; assessments (i.e. learning disability, adaptive technology); adaptive equipment; learning strategy support; test and examination accommodations; note-taking services; sign language interpreters; computer note-taking; scribes; attendant care; advice and information on disability issues; liaison with university faculty and staff and off-campus agencies.

Centre for Community Partnerships
The Centre for Community Partnership (CCP) coordinates sustained course-based and co-curricular partnerships between the University and the community. The CCP offers tools and workshops to prepare students for community work and to facilitate reflection on the meaning of their experience. They work collaboratively with community organization staff to ensure that both the needs of the organization and the learning goals for students are met. The CCP promotes an academic culture that values community expertise and supports students to become socially-engaged citizens.

Centre for International Experience (CIE)
The World Could Be Yours!
Faculty of Music students have the option of participating in the international and Canadian study abroad opportunities offered through the Centre for International Experience’s Student Exchange Program. These exchanges allow students to experience new cultures and languages in an academic setting while earning credits towards the U of T degree. Exchanges may be for one term or a full year or summer, and most are open to both undergraduate and graduate students.

Currently there are Music specific exchanges with the Sibelius Academy in Helsinki, Tartini Conservatory in Trieste, Danish National Academy of Music in Odense and the Royal Northern College of Music in Manchester. However, students have the option of applying to any other institution that UofT has an agreement with.

The cost of an exchange includes the U of T tuition plus incidental fees, along with the cost of living and studying abroad. While on exchange, students may still eligible to receive government assistance such as OSAP. CIE itself administers a needs-based bursary program.

In general, undergraduate or graduate U of T students who have completed at least one year of full-time studies, with a minimum CGPA of 2.25, are eligible to apply. Students must also achieve a minimum annual GPA of 2.5 for the year during which you apply. A few exchange programs do have higher GPA cutoffs, and others have special language requirements.

Application: Applications for most programs are due mid-January to late February, but you should always check the CIE website regarding the specific exchanges that interest you.

Note that students participating in an exchange through the Centre for International Experience will have their credits finalized for transfer upon return. However, students are strongly advised to at least have a preliminary assessment completed with the Registrar’s Office, to minimize the risk of credits not transferring. Course outlines may be required, in addition to calendar descriptions to complete an assessment. Students are eligible to participate in up to three terms of exchange.
The Centre for International Experience also provides services and programs for international students and any students with cross-cultural interests. Services and programs include: information on visas and work permits; University Health Insurance Plan (UHIP); income tax filing; English conversation program; cross-cultural counselling; Work and Study Abroad Resource Centre; and social, cultural, and recreational programs designed to promote Canadian and World cultures.

Family Care Office
Many students balance family obligations with their studies. The University of Toronto is committed to fostering a family-friendly learning environment. The Family Care Office embraces an inclusive definition of family, and can assist students who require information on child care (facilities, programs, or subsidies), elder care, and other family matters.
Services include:
- Information, guidance, referrals, educational programming, and advocacy for the University of Toronto community
- Family events, discussion, and support groups
- Workshops including “Choosing Child Care that Works for Your Family” and “Financial Survival for Student Families”
- A resource centre containing practical material on family issues ranging from pregnancy and infant care to lesbian and gay parenting and caring for elderly family members
- All services are free and confidential

First Nations House
Indigenous Student Services

First Nations House provides culturally supportive student services and programs for Aboriginal students and the general university community.

Services include:
- Academic and personal counselling;
- Financial aid information;
- Housing, daycare, and employment referrals;
- Tutoring
- A resource centre
- Numerous cultural events throughout the academic year

Health & Wellness
The Health and Wellness Centre offers students the same services as a family doctor’s office and more. The Health and Wellness team includes family physicians, registered nurses, counsellors, psychiatrists, a dietician, and support staff. They provide confidential, student-centred health care, including comprehensive medical care, immunization, sexual health care, counselling and referrals. Services are available to all full- and part-time students who possess a valid TCard and have health insurance coverage.

Office of Student Life

The Office of Student Life is dedicated to connecting students to opportunities for co-curricular engagement and learning, to developing student leadership and building an inclusive and vibrant community on campus. Programs include:
Ulife
Your central source of information on opportunities to get involved at U of T. Find mentorship programs, community service opportunities, student groups, and more listed in a searchable database at www.ulife.utoronto.ca.

Campus Organization Services
Students looking to join, or create a recognized campus group at U of T will find all the information you need at www.ulife.utoronto.ca.

Leadership Development Programs
All students can access a variety of opportunities designed to expand the skills and knowledge you need to contribute with your group and your community.

Sexual & Gender Diversity Office
This office offers support and information to students who are “out” or questioning their sexual orientation or gender identity. The office also works with students, faculty and staff to provide training and education on issues related to sexual diversity, anti-heterosexist programming, and events and programs for the LGBTQ community at U of T.

Sexual Violence Prevention & Support Centre
The Centre has a mandate to conduct intake, accept disclosure and reporting of sexual violence, and provide support to individual members of the university community who have experienced or been affected by sexual violence. The Centre will also provide education and training to members of the university community.

Summer Abroad Program
Prepare yourself for a future in the global village by participating in one of the highly rated Faculty of Arts & Science Summer Abroad Programs. These programs are designed to enrich students’ academic lives by providing an exciting and educational international experience.
Courses
Students take specially designed University of Toronto undergraduate degree credit courses, relevant to the location, for a period of 4 to 6 weeks. The courses have field trips that complement and highlight the academic materials. Courses are taught predominantly by University of Toronto professors and, with the exception of language courses, are offered in English.

Typically, full-year second and third year courses are offered in disciplines such as history, political science, management, literature, architecture, fine art, religion, and languages. Most courses do not have prerequisites. All Summer Abroad courses and grades show on students’ transcripts as regular U of T credits and are calculated into CGPA.

Application
All University of Toronto students in good standing are eligible to apply. Applications are available in early January. The application deadline for most programs is March 1, but spaces in some programs fill up well in advance. Late applications will be accepted if space and time permit.

Financial aid is available for most programs.

U of T Campus Safety App
Campus Police and the Community Safety Office have partnered to release the official U of T Campus Safety App. This unique app integrates with U of T’s safety and security systems to help students, faculty, and staff move more safely on and off-campus. It also provides campus safety alerts and access to academic and mental health supports — all tailored to your campus of choice.

The U of T Campus Safety App is available for free download at Google Play and the Apple Store. Key features include real-time Alerts for safety-related incidents or campus closures; Live Chat with Campus Police, connecting users with U of T safety staff in real-time; TravelSafer, allowing Campus Police to monitor a user’s route when coming to or leaving from campus until reaching a destination; and Mobile Bluelight, which sends the user’s on-campus location to Campus Police in a case of crisis. Additional features — such as Friend Walk and Support Services — assist users anywhere in the world.
